

Today

Two Kinds of Sabotage
A Death House Meeting
Our Navy Goes Hawking
The Editor's Poster

By Arthur Brisbane
Copyright, 1922, by Star Co.
If railroad workers agree to return, submitting to arbitration, provided their seniority rights are preserved, and if the railroad owners refuse that arrangement, some remarks to them from the President will be in order.

Railroad workers' seniority rights are as important to him as the locomotives, tracks and railroad stations to the railroad owners.

If workers say to railroads: "We shall burn your buildings, blow up your locomotives, that is called sabotage, for it's destroying property in which owners have invested their dollars. It is just as much sabotage to threaten men with destruction of their seniority rights, for these rights ARE PROPERTY in which the workers have invested their energies, their lives and their hopes."

Pietro Nuziata robbed, then murdered, Professor Kotkov of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

Saito Taiso murdered his roommate, also a Japanese, to get his money.

Both were in Ringling's death house, both were killed by electricity night before last. By different roads, languages, education and religion, they had arrived at the same end. Nuziata shot his victim. Taiso strangled him with a cord, having disassembled him with a judicious trick. Nuziata gave a farewell death house banquet to the man about to be electrocuted with him. Both ate breakfast, French fried potatoes, coffee, ice cream and then smoked cigars.

Where have the Japanese and Italian gone, now that "civilization" has killed both of them by electricity? Do they hang in the same heaven or hell or different roads, as they landed in the same death house and ate breakfast, French fried potatoes, coffee, ice cream and then smoked cigars.

In ancient hunting, ladies and gentlemen rode out with hawks on their wrists. Each was a hood covering its eyes. When the hawk saw a bird that he wanted, he uncovered the eyes of the hawk. It flew after the game, brought it down. The hawk was trained to come back and roost on the wrist again.

That method of hunting now figures in gun fighting. Our battleships will go out carrying flying machines on their decks. The hawk carried the hawk on his wrist. A flying machine, by drop-appearing, will attack the bird, then come in to perch on the deck of the ship.

Our navy, most important armament, has perfected a device that enables a machine flying fifty miles an hour to land on a ship's deck. The thing is done with wires stretched across the deck, with weights attached. Hooks under the flying machine seize these wires and the machine is gradually brought to a steady stop. It works very much like the hooked claws of the falcon when he fastened them on the wrist of his owner and came to a stop.

Nature, like the example and Continued on Page 2, Column 8.

OPEN TONIGHT

The Following Stores Are Open Every SATURDAY NIGHT

Department Stores
W. & A. G. 125 Washington St.
W. & A. G. 125 Washington St.

Men's Clothing
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Men's Furnishings
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Men's Hats and Gloves
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Men's and Women's Shoes
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Furniture
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Pianos and Phonographs
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Jewelry
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

Sporting Goods
J. & S. 125 Washington St.
J. & S. 125 Washington St.

SOMERVILLE BANDITS GET $1775

THE WEATHER

Boston and vicinity: Fair tonight, tomorrow generally fair; sun much clearer in morning; moderate south wind; temperature 62 to 68; rain at 10:30 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. Wind from S. by E. at 10:30 a. m. 10:45 a. m. Temperature: Maximum, 61; minimum, 54. Wind from S. by E. at 10:30 a. m. 10:45 a. m. Wind from S. by E. at 10:30 a. m. 10:45 a. m.

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION NEW ENGLAND VOL. 19—No. 104 BOSTON, SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1922 PRICE THREE CENTS

COMPLETE STOCKS

Dancer's Story of Romance With Whitney

WHITNEY ORDER REWARD

4 Girls' Bodies Exhumed

ILLEGAL SURGERY CHARGED

Believe Doctor Captured Near Hub—Is Guilty of Serious Crimes in Maine Town

Germany Accepts Allies' Demands on Guarantee

STORY OF WHITNEY ROMANCE

7 KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASH IN MISSOURI

SUSPECT FIREBUG IN NEPONSET

OLYMPIC SETS UP NEW RECORD

FAIR SUNDAY FOR BOSTON PREDICTED

Germany Accepts Allies' Demands on Guarantee

Paris, July 22 (By the Associated Press).—Germany has formally accepted the demands of the allied committee on guarantees which were presented at Berlin last Tuesday. In a letter to the Reparations Commission, received today, Chancellor Wirth stated that Germany, after protracted deliberation, had decided to accept the conditions for the duration of the armistice, which the German government assumed would soon be granted.

STORY OF WHITNEY ROMANCE

Even Burrows Fontaine Tells of Week-End Visits With Young Hair

New York, July 22.—For two years Broadway has talked openly, and Fifth Avenue coyly, about the romance of Evan Burrows Fontaine, the dancer, and young Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

7 KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASH IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Seven persons were killed in the head-on collision of St. Louis-Franisco passenger train No. 2 and a local train No. 3, this morning.

SUSPECT FIREBUG IN NEPONSET

An unprecedented number of alarms occurred today in a period of twenty-four hours has convinced police authorities of Neponset, and vicinity that a firebug is at work in that district. The firemen were called to No. 87 Tenth street, where a house was discovered on fire in a New Haven Railroad shed. It was quickly put out and there was only a slight damage. There were several alarms on Thursday, one for a fire in a workshop on Norwood street, which caused $10 damage to the works.

OLYMPIC SETS UP NEW RECORD

Southampton, Eng., July 22 (By International News Service).—A new high speed record for transatlantic travel was established by the steamship Olympic, which arrived from New York today. The captain reported that the Olympic obtained an hourly speed of 37.4 knots during a portion of the voyage.

FAIR SUNDAY FOR BOSTON PREDICTED

"Fair today and generally fair tomorrow," says the weather man. Showers falling in the late season may possibly reach Boston tomorrow, and then it will only be a sprinkle. South to southwest moderate winds are forecast.

Germany Accepts Allies' Demands on Guarantee

Paris, July 22 (By the Associated Press).—Germany has formally accepted the demands of the allied committee on guarantees which were presented at Berlin last Tuesday. In a letter to the Reparations Commission, received today, Chancellor Wirth stated that Germany, after protracted deliberation, had decided to accept the conditions for the duration of the armistice, which the German government assumed would soon be granted.

STORY OF WHITNEY ROMANCE

Even Burrows Fontaine Tells of Week-End Visits With Young Hair

New York, July 22.—For two years Broadway has talked openly, and Fifth Avenue coyly, about the romance of Evan Burrows Fontaine, the dancer, and young Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

7 KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASH IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Seven persons were killed in the head-on collision of St. Louis-Franisco passenger train No. 2 and a local train No. 3, this morning.

SUSPECT FIREBUG IN NEPONSET

An unprecedented number of alarms occurred today in a period of twenty-four hours has convinced police authorities of Neponset, and vicinity that a firebug is at work in that district. The firemen were called to No. 87 Tenth street, where a house was discovered on fire in a New Haven Railroad shed. It was quickly put out and there was only a slight damage. There were several alarms on Thursday, one for a fire in a workshop on Norwood street, which caused $10 damage to the works.

OLYMPIC SETS UP NEW RECORD

Southampton, Eng., July 22 (By International News Service).—A new high speed record for transatlantic travel was established by the steamship Olympic, which arrived from New York today. The captain reported that the Olympic obtained an hourly speed of 37.4 knots during a portion of the voyage.

FAIR SUNDAY FOR BOSTON PREDICTED

"Fair today and generally fair tomorrow," says the weather man. Showers falling in the late season may possibly reach Boston tomorrow, and then it will only be a sprinkle. South to southwest moderate winds are forecast.

Germany Accepts Allies' Demands on Guarantee

Paris, July 22 (By the Associated Press).—Germany has formally accepted the demands of the allied committee on guarantees which were presented at Berlin last Tuesday. In a letter to the Reparations Commission, received today, Chancellor Wirth stated that Germany, after protracted deliberation, had decided to accept the conditions for the duration of the armistice, which the German government assumed would soon be granted.

STORY OF WHITNEY ROMANCE

Even Burrows Fontaine Tells of Week-End Visits With Young Hair

New York, July 22.—For two years Broadway has talked openly, and Fifth Avenue coyly, about the romance of Evan Burrows Fontaine, the dancer, and young Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

7 KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASH IN MISSOURI

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Seven persons were killed in the head-on collision of St. Louis-Franisco passenger train No. 2 and a local train No. 3, this morning.

SUSPECT FIREBUG IN NEPONSET

An unprecedented number of alarms occurred today in a period of twenty-four hours has convinced police authorities of Neponset, and vicinity that a firebug is at work in that district. The firemen were called to No. 87 Tenth street, where a house was discovered on fire in a New Haven Railroad shed. It was quickly put out and there was only a slight damage. There were several alarms on Thursday, one for a fire in a workshop on Norwood street, which caused $10 damage to the works.

OLYMPIC SETS UP NEW RECORD

Southampton, Eng., July 22 (By International News Service).—A new high speed record for transatlantic travel was established by the steamship Olympic, which arrived from New York today. The captain reported that the Olympic obtained an hourly speed of 37.4 knots during a portion of the voyage.

FAIR SUNDAY FOR BOSTON PREDICTED

"Fair today and generally fair tomorrow," says the weather man. Showers falling in the late season may possibly reach Boston tomorrow, and then it will only be a sprinkle. South to southwest moderate winds are forecast.

Rivals for Love of Young Millionaire

Dancer and Society Girl Who Figure in Whitney's Heart Affairs

It is now generally believed that the man who caved in young McMahon's skull was a figure who had been seen, off and on for the past year, in the woods around Salem.

On the several occasions that the police received reports of his appearance it was said that he had come out of the woods, naked, to frighten some passing boy or girl, and that he disappeared into the woods when an alarm was raised.

"I approached him and remonstrated at his appearance. I told him there were many houses nearby, and that he would be sure to be seen."

"I noticed that he looked wild and

WILD MAN HUNTED AS SALEM BOY'S SLAYER

Mayor Dennis Sullivan of Salem today announced a reward of $1,000 for the capture of the slayer of twelve-year-old Henry P. McMahon.

Immediately thereafter District Attorney S. Howard Donnell of Essex County, following a conference with the Salem police, announced he would call in the State police to aid in the investigation of this, New England's most brutal crime in years.

A hundred volunteers aided today in the search for the slayer.

It is now generally believed that the man who caved in young McMahon's skull was a figure who had been seen, off and on for the past year, in the woods around Salem.

On the several occasions that the police received reports of his appearance it was said that he had come out of the woods, naked, to frighten some passing boy or girl, and that he disappeared into the woods when an alarm was raised.

"I approached him and remonstrated at his appearance. I told him there were many houses nearby, and that he would be sure to be seen."

"I noticed that he looked wild and

BOTH CLAIM VANDERBILT HEIR.

Evan Burrows Fontaine, in the freedom of an interpretive dance, gave little indication of the sorrowful young mother she claims to be and upon which ground she has sued Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. In circle, Miss Marie Norton, New York society girl, whose engagement to Whitney was reported last week. (Photos by Underwood & Underwood.)

POISONED GIRL IS IDENTIFIED

The young woman found wandering in the Penway and now detained at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital has been identified by the Boston American as Mrs. Alice Chubb Rogers, a divorcee of No. 101 Beach street, Malden. Mrs. Rogers' husband followed a liquor revel in a Beach Bay apartment, at which half a dozen men and women were said to be present. The young woman is engaged to be married.

DRY AGENTS SEAL HAND BREWERY

Providence, July 22.—Prohibition agents of the "Flying Squadron" sealed the doors, offices and vaults of the Hand Brewery Company of Providence after investigating conditions here yesterday and today. Agents say that beer was being brewed which contained 1 1/2 per cent. alcohol.

SEEKS DAUGHTERS, ARRESTED AS BIGAMIST

Magdalena Mignavasco, forty years old, of No. 88 Williams street, Lynn, asked the police to aid her in finding her two daughters. As a result Magdalena is now under arrest on the charge of bigamy. Hubby No. 3 is also under arrest on a statutory charge and there are no other children in the Mignavasco family.

TODAY'S BANK STATEMENT.

N. Y. bank clearings... $100,000,000
N. Y. bank balances... 45,000,000
Boston bank clearings... 48,000,000
Boston bank balances... 16,000,000
N. Y. R. R. bank, credit, 99,000,000

POISONED GIRL IS IDENTIFIED

The young woman found wandering in the Penway and now detained at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital has been identified by the Boston American as Mrs. Alice Chubb Rogers, a divorcee of No. 101 Beach street, Malden. Mrs. Rogers' husband followed a liquor revel in a Beach Bay apartment, at which half a dozen men and women were said to be present. The young woman is engaged to be married.

DRY AGENTS SEAL HAND BREWERY

Providence, July 22.—Prohibition agents of the "Flying Squadron" sealed the doors, offices and vaults of the Hand Brewery Company of Providence after investigating conditions here yesterday and today. Agents say that beer was being brewed which contained 1 1/2 per cent. alcohol.

SEEKS DAUGHTERS, ARRESTED AS BIGAMIST

Magdalena Mignavasco, forty years old, of No. 88 Williams street, Lynn, asked the police to aid her in finding her two daughters. As a result Magdalena is now under arrest on the charge of bigamy. Hubby No. 3 is also under arrest on a statutory charge and there are no other children in the Mignavasco family.

TODAY'S BANK STATEMENT.

N. Y. bank clearings... $100,000,000
N. Y. bank balances... 45,000,000
Boston bank clearings... 48,000,000
Boston bank balances... 16,000,000
N. Y. R. R. bank, credit, 99,000,000

SOMERVILLE BANDITS

GET PAYROLL

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

Three armed bandits entered the offices of the H. M. Hillson Co. hardware manufacturers, Mystic avenue, Somerville, shortly after noon today and escaped with the $1775 payroll.

STATE POLICE ASKED TO AD IN HUNT FOR SLAYER OF YOUTH

PHOTO-DIAGRAM OF SALEM'S MOST BRUTAL CRIME

Continued From First Page.

The wooded pasture and marsh areas.

THEORY OF LYNCHING.

Henry Francis Smith, twelve-year-old child of the murdered boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of No. 79 Boston street, today told how he and his eleven-year-old playmate, Henry Maxwell of Bridge street, were approached by a man of the name described at 221 yesterday morning while they were bathing in Anderson Pond in the same vicinity, and how they were compelled to flee from him.

This was five hours before discovery of Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

FOUND GENERAL ALARM.

A general alarm today was given to the police of eastern Massachusetts to apprehend such a suspect. The first clue to the murder suspect was furnished by Mrs. Margaret Cream of No. 141 Highland avenue, who, with her son Walter, saw Henry Maxwell pass their home with the stranger man. The Cream home is less than ten minutes' walk from the spot where the body was found.

"It was about 5:30," said Mrs. Cream, "when I came to my front window to speak to my boy Walter. Walter was on his way to school. I saw a bare-headed boy in a tall man's suit, and I thought it rather an odd sight until he bowed his head to Walter and Walter greeted him."

"After they passed I asked Walter who the boy was. He said, 'He is Henry Maxwell of Boston street, who went to his school. I asked if the man was Henry's father and he said he didn't think so. I noticed that the man wore a dark suit which was neat enough, but hadn't been cleaned.'

"I noticed that he was about six feet tall and that he walked erect, with his chest held high, like a soldier. He was about forty and smooth-skinned. As I remember his face, it was completed. It was very hot and sticky and his hair turned brown at the neck. He had the look of a man who had been in the sun. He was a tall, thin man, with a high forehead, and he was walking close by his son, but he was not holding Henry's hand."

COULD RECOGNIZE MAN.

"I got a good look at the man and could tell him again if I saw him," said Walter Cream, aged thirteen.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

FINDING THE BODY

Michael Romano, Italian youth, who was found the body of young Maxwell.

was nearly to them than mother. Henry didn't speak.

"He just waved and I waved. After they went up the road I saw them stop and the man turned over as if speaking to Henry. He looked at me awful hard as he passed. I never saw him before. He had a queer look."

The next clue was furnished by Walter Burman of No. 28 Boston street, close to the home of the murdered boy. Burman said:

"The boys used to call Henry Maxwell's home. When the lad disappeared we were sorry. About 12:30 or 1:30 yesterday morning a strange man came up to the window of our shop, pored in cautiously and then came in. He took my chair. I noticed that he wore a blue serge suit and that he hung up a green cap. He didn't have a tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. What aroused my suspicion most was his nervous manner and his scared, sort of wild look. He acted like a hunted man. He didn't look at me. He looked in the chair. When I clapped on a hot towel he jumped and clenched his fists."

BODY IN BERRY FIELD.

"I asked him the trouble. He said he was tired and nervous. When he came in he asked me, 'I said, 'I want a shave and have the price.' I wanted to see his face once. I noticed that his skin was tanned and that his light hair was streaked with gray. He looked like a Pole. His speech sounded that way, too. His eyes were blue."

He paid me with a dollar bill and gave me a nickel tip. He told me not to bother coming his way. Instead of heading toward Kelly square he headed toward the back of the house. "I mentioned the fellow and was suspicious hours before we heard that Henry Maxwell had been murdered."

Michael Romano, aged eleven years, of No. 11 Gentry court, stunned upon Henry's body while picking berries with his mother and mother. He made the discovery at 1:30 yesterday afternoon.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Henry Maxwell's body, the condition of which indicated that he had been dead since Tuesday.

Other children told of having been frightened and routed by a strange man. Their stories convince the police that the slayer of Henry Maxwell has haunted the woods, marshes and pastures of that section for weeks and that he has become a menace. His sinister appearance and disappearance are a haunting topic. The people of Essex County have little been so interested.

A report that a little girl had been seized into the woods by the man, and that she had been taken to the community. A posse of men, women and boys armed with shotguns, air rifles, baseball bats, clubs, poles, brooms and stones stampeded the woods and windows in a man hunt that was thrilling while it lasted. If the suspect had been cornered it would have gone hard with him. There were threats of lynching.

The disturbed state of mind of the police was unshared today as the search for the find continued.

The authorities are searching for a tall man of military bearing, whose complexion and cast of features gave the appearance of a Pole, say the witnesses who saw him.

The suspect is described as being between five feet ten inches and six feet tall, square shouldered, well built, short curly hair, blue eyes, age, smooth, slender, light hair streaked with gray, partly bald, blue eyes and face brightly exposed. He wore a blue serge suit, greenish-brown shirt with soft collar, and fine dark stripes, the attached collar of which was unbuttoned and turned down, giving to the head. He wore high black shoes.

Police Description of Salem Murder Suspect

Here is the description of the man who is sought as the murderer of Henry Maxwell, as given by police of that city:

Height, about 5 feet 10 inches. Weight, about 160 pounds. Complexion, yellow; hair, light. Dressed in a blue suit, with a light shirt, collar of which is turned in and wears a faded green tie or collar. There was a soft collar attached to his shirt, which was white with a stripe. He walked erect, with military bearing.

Michael and his mother and brother had worked through a wood section of Half-Mile pasture, a rolling, dreary stretch of meadow covered by tall grass and patches by marshland and boulders. The father, Edward J. McMahon, a native of Ireland, was a prominent builder, but did not dare go herself owing to the soggy, half-embowed ground.

"You go, Mike, and get them," said Mr. McMahon and Michael did. He found the body lying in a cave-like spot that made a natural tomb. Thick brush screened all sides and the spot where the body lay was about four feet lower than the surrounding ground.

It made a natural hiding place and the body might have been concealed there for weeks if not discovered by young Romano.

Michael dropped his berry pail and shouted "Ma! It's a boy asleep!" It looks like the boy they're hunting for."

Treated by his mother and brother, Edward J. McMahon, the nearest home, located on Highland avenue, at a point opposite where the body was found 120 yards in from the highway.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

BOYS' HEAD CRUSHED IN.

Edward went back to the spot with Michael Romano and hairy McArthur convinced him that the "sleeping boy" was dead. Edward's head was crushed in.

Important!

FIRST: Each person, child or adult, must have an individual ticket.

SECONDS: Tickets will not be good for children over 12 years of age or for male adults unless accompanied by children.

THIRD: No adult can accompany more than three (3) children.

FOURTH: Positively no coupons will be redeemed at the wharf.

TRIPS TO NANTASKET

FOR MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

3 of these coupons clipped from the Boston American on any 3 CONSECUTIVE days, TOGETHER WITH 10 CENTS, will be exchanged at any of the advertised distributing stations for

ONE BOAT TRIP TICKET BOSTON TO NANTASKET and Return

ONLY ON BOATS AS SCHEDULED

Any Day, Monday (July 24) to Friday (July 28) Inclusive

The three consecutively dated coupons must be exchanged for a regular trip ticket at either the Boston American Business Office, 80 Summer St., Boston, or at one of the advertised distributing stations.

BEAUTIFUL BEAUTIES AROUND BOSTON

Advertiser's famous Beauty Picture discovers many more charming girls than any other publication.

Full Page - Tomorrow's SUNDAY ADVERTISER

MISS SIGOURNEY BARKER 'GOOD SPORT'

By GRACE DES CHAMPS.

Mrs. Mollie Sigourney Barker made a statement about her.

She made no strange confession about her life in the prison.

Mrs. Barker around the life of American and English reporters by her refusal to make any sort of statement relative to either Mollie Langley or the coming match.

The disgruntled newspapermen "broke" the interview which aroused the sporting blood of a whole world and which caused the English and American press to devote editorial columns to a rebuke of Mrs. Barker's so-called "streak of yellow."

Miss Edith Bigner, hostess yesterday, herself a tennis champion and friend and closest companion of Mrs. Barker during the entire trip abroad, in authority for these statements.

CALLS HER "GOOD SPORT"

Miss Sigourney, at her summer estate at Nahant, gave an American reporter the first authorized statement made by any member of Mrs. Barker's party, since the famous match at Wimbledon.

Mrs. Barker is a thoroughly good sport.

"I say this because her American countrymen should know that the woman whom Mollie Suzanne Langley defeated at Wimbledon had that last ounce of good sportsmanship that characterizes every American, triumpant or defeated."

"I went across with her, with her before the match, during the match and after the match. And I never heard Mrs. Barker whisper or offer a single word for her defense."

"I have seen her play better than she did at Wimbledon. That is relevant, now. Mollie Langley won the game fairly and squarely and Mrs. Barker offered her hand to Mollie Langley with all the gracefulness of an American sportsman."

HECAME ENRAGED

"An army of reporters dogged Mrs. Barker's footsteps. She was indignant over a false interview she was quoted as having given in London shortly after her arrival from America."

"Let me say here that Mrs. Barker did not give a single interview to the press while abroad. Everything she is credited with having said, originated in the minds of the disgruntled newspapermen who sought every means to have her make some sort of statement."

"Mrs. Barker, who was constantly during our trip abroad and I can vouch for the absence of material she gave the press."

"It was when the American press took up the reported remarks of Mrs. Barker that she became enraged. She had done herself credit in the matter of making a good impression upon European sporting people and it must have been vexing to her to have the papers of her own country turn upon her. The actual straw was added when American editorial columns began to chide her for lack of sporting qualities."

SHOWED SPORTSMANSHIP

"One can hardly blame Mrs. Barker for being vexed and indignant. The newspapermen who sought to interview her on the boat coming up the harbor into New York City, I suppose she was afraid to make a statement too. She was afraid to be friendly press would misconstrue it and she would be judged even harder in the eyes of her own countrymen."

"Mrs. Barker is by no means crushed by her defeat. She is an excellent player, that she plays a superb game and that she is admitted to represent America at a tennis tournament. She will finish out her program here in America exactly as she had planned."

And she is ready to go to Wimbledon—will go again—to meet Mollie Langley again, or anyone else."

"During close companionship with Mrs. Barker, I never heard her make a disparaging remark against Mollie Langley. I know she never made one."

"As I said before, I have seen Mrs. Barker play a better game than at the match at Wimbledon. But she lost—like a good sportsman, a dignified American sportsman."

PRINCESS DEFERS

NEWPORT VISIT

Newport, R. I., July 22.—Princess Patricia of Connaught, daughter of William B. Leeds, who recently accepted an invitation to remain in America and visit Newport as guest of Mrs. O. F. Belmont at Mastic House, now advises Mrs. Leeds that she must postpone the trip until next year.

The Princess is to be accompanied by her son, William B. Leeds, Jr., and the Princess Anne with her. The American tennis champion, who has arrived here from London, Long Island, and is visiting Mrs. Arthur Scott Borden at Elm Court.

Society Knows Mrs. C. S. Bird as Suffrage Advocate, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

Mrs. LARZ ANDERSON.

Mrs. Arthur G. Rutch.

Mrs. Maynard Ladd.

Mrs. Dorothy Forbes.

Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird.

A student of social, civic and economic problems is Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, who comes last, but not least, on our list of Boston's six most notable society women.

Mrs. Bird, the former Anna J. Child, is a very remarkable person. A woman of unshakeable political opinions, Mrs. Bird, like all others of her class, has stood by her views until the last fling of the gun. And not infrequently her opinions were not popular ones. Indeed, they were sometimes quite "shocking" to her friends, though the latter admired and esteemed her just the same.

But if Mrs. Bird has given to generous portions of her time to various causes, there have been no end of occasions when she has been regarded as a gracious hostess at "Eldens," the Birds' large estate at Walpole. In fact, all the members of the Bird family are noted for their hospitality.

STRANGELY enough, it was when her husband retired from active political warfare that Mrs. Bird came to the front, and it was not long before she became recognized as one of the most ardent and ablest suffrage leaders in the country. It was during the time when the sponsors for woman's rights were fighting the hardest battles of their long campaign that Mrs. Bird served as first vice-president of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association.

What merry affairs were those battles between the "yellow" and the "reds" frequently between distinguished matrons of the smart set, who met in their drawing rooms for "tea" and "hours."

And those meetings were not always too comfortable, despite the fact and graciousness which is said to be hereditary of all people of social distinction.

But if the members of the Bird family are noted for their hospitality, it was in Mrs. Bird one of its staunchest workers, so had Republican party, for it was only last year that the mistress of "Eldens" retired as chairman of the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts.

Every week, one of the all the Bird's undying devotion to the cause of woman's rights is a very proud moment in Mrs. Bird's life.

It was when she was presented a large bronze elephant which she had received from the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts.

The presentation, which followed a complimentary luncheon given Mrs. Bird's hostess, her retirement, was made by Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, a member of the state committee.

At the same time, presented Mrs. Bird with a very valuable amethyst necklace, which she had received from Mrs. Putnam.

"For years you and I have been working with the same end in view, but from different angles. You've worked hard for suffrage and I opposed the extension of suffrage to women. You won and I lost. But now that this question is so much before us, I am willing to do my utmost to prove that you were right."

ANOTHER cause which has received the hearty support of Mrs. Bird is the movement for universal disarmament, and she has been greatly interested when the walkman Boston motion was appointed by President Harding last November as one of the twenty members of the American League of Nations conference. Besides Mrs. Bird, only three other women were elected to the committee.

Her husband is the son of Frank W. Bird, known to his generation as the sage of Walpole, friend of Garrison, Sumner, Andrew and the other great men who stood for freedom and human rights.

Francis W. Bird, who died during the influenza epidemic, held high office under President Taft. Her other son, Charles Sumner Bird, who is now a student at Harvard, who has charge of his father's business in Chicago, takes a lively interest in civic affairs.

Her daughter, the former Edith Bird, married Governor Bass of Chicago, and her son, Richard, is a member of the American Embassy in Italy. So that all the Birds are well allied with politics.

A SERIES taking up the six "peppiest" young women in the ranks of Boston's smart set will begin in these columns on Monday.

MRS. CHARLES SUMNER BIRD
There are many who consider Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird of Walpole as one of Boston society's six most noted women.

POLICE PROBE CAN'T DECIDE COAL YARD KILLED BY FIRE

Lawrence, July 22.—Police today started an investigation of the three-alarm fire at the coal and wood yard of Nathan Hietron, No. 414 Hampton street, which broke out yesterday afternoon, and which destroyed the building, and the coal and wood yard.

According to Fire Chief Frank Morris, the fire was of incendiary origin, starting in the wood yard and spreading to the adjoining property with a resultant damage of $50,000.

In the tenement house at No. 414 Hampton street, which was destroyed, the fire started in the second floor, where a woman named Mary Ellen Zuck of the third floor, together with her mother, Dorothy Goldberg of Peabody, were living.

Mr. Zuck, who is forty years old, jumped from the second floor and sustained no injuries. Mr. and Mrs. William Barrett and her sister, Miss Bertha Barrett, and their two children fled from the second floor to the first floor.

Mr. White instructed his representative, Attorney Henry J. Lynch, to go to the police station and see that John J. Manning, who was recently made a sergeant and transferred to Division, Lynch will team up with Special Officer John O. Treaschman. He was appointed to the police force in October, 1919, and served in the navy during the World War.

NOT TO SEE WALSKA, SAYS MCCORMICK

Paris, July 22.—Harold F. McCormick, on his arrival here today from America, told the Associated Press he was in Europe for business and a rest and that he had no intention of seeing the members of the executive committee of the American League of Nations conference. Besides Mrs. Bird, only three other women were elected to the committee.

Her husband is the son of Frank W. Bird, known to his generation as the sage of Walpole, friend of Garrison, Sumner, Andrew and the other great men who stood for freedom and human rights.

Francis W. Bird, who died during the influenza epidemic, held high office under President Taft. Her other son, Charles Sumner Bird, who is now a student at Harvard, who has charge of his father's business in Chicago, takes a lively interest in civic affairs.

Her daughter, the former Edith Bird, married Governor Bass of Chicago, and her son, Richard, is a member of the American Embassy in Italy. So that all the Birds are well allied with politics.

A SERIES taking up the six "peppiest" young women in the ranks of Boston's smart set will begin in these columns on Monday.

Steel Car Repairs Wanted
Rate 63c Per Hour
Permanent Positions for Those Who Are Qualified
Apply to Foreman, N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
Norwood, Mass.
Or to Room 479, South Station, Boston, Mass.

JORDAN MARSH EMPLOYEES ON OUTING

Three thousand fellow-workers of the Jordan Marsh Company participated today in real old-fashioned style at Falmouth. It was the second annual picnic of the Good Fellowship Club.

"Picnics" was the key to the whole outing from the two special boats, the Mary Chilton and the Rose Standish, which carried the crowd to the seashore, to the special dinner served by the Falmouth Inn.

Races and contests of all kinds, land sports, water sports, ball games, tennis, guessing contests, "booby" and "all special" events, were on the program.

Calderswood's Band, under the direction of James W. Calderswood, conductor of the Jordan Marsh Choral Society, gave a concert on the boat trip and led the choral singing.

During all day from the minute the boat landed until midnight, with Bert Lowe's orchestra of Falmouth Inn, was the main attraction for most of the picnickers.

The invited guests were George W. Milroy, president of the company; W. F. Walters, vice-president; Richard Milroy, vice-president; Mrs. W. F. Walters, treasurer; Directors: W. A. Hawkins, W. D. Tuttle, W. D. Williams, Edward Milroy, assistant-treasurer; Charles Brady, R. D. Waters, D. F. Taylor, R. J. Pomeroy, H. A. Hawkins and General Duperre, James A. Falmouth.

The committee in charge was Frederick A. Fuller, chairman; A. C. Plummer, director; Miss Mary C. Neary, secretary; W. F. Corbett, treasurer; Frederick A. Falmouth, Catherine Lucia, Harry Torrey, Maurice Griffith, Eugene Hume, Fred B. Walbridge, E. M. Berry, George Allen, G. A. Pankes, Miss Alice Thompson, R. J. Pomeroy, Harold W. Stevens, James Keough, W. A. Hawkins, W. D. Tuttle, D. C. Norman, W. F. Corbett, Arthur Sanborn, Miss Cassie J. Fuller, George E. Wray, Joseph Stanton and Miss Margaret L. Stuart.

PATRICK A. O'HEARN DIES AT NANTASKET
Patrick A. O'Hearn, former Boston Building Commissioner, died at his summer home at Nantasket after a long illness.

Mr. O'Hearn was president of the Irish Trust Company, president of the Irish Savings Bank and Democrat in politics for State Treasurer. He was fifty-seven years old. He is survived by his widow and three sons and three daughters.

MAN AND WIFE ARE KILLED IN BATHROOM
Frankfurt, Germany, July 22.—Electrician killed a young married couple yesterday in a most unusual accident. Both bodies were found in a bathroom, and investigation revealed that the electrician, while repairing a defective construction, with her husband, was about to leave the tub and was immediately electrocuted. The husband was killed when he rushed to the aid of his wife.

LYNCH GOING ON SPECIAL DUTY
Robert A. Lynch, clerk at the City Hall Police Station, was today appointed special officer to succeed John J. Manning, who was recently made a sergeant and transferred to Division. Lynch will team up with Special Officer John O. Treaschman. He was appointed to the police force in October, 1919, and served in the navy during the World War.

COAL YARD KILLED BY FIRE
Lawrence, July 22.—Police today started an investigation of the three-alarm fire at the coal and wood yard of Nathan Hietron, No. 414 Hampton street, which broke out yesterday afternoon, and which destroyed the building, and the coal and wood yard.

According to Fire Chief Frank Morris, the fire was of incendiary origin, starting in the wood yard and spreading to the adjoining property with a resultant damage of $50,000.

In the tenement house at No. 414 Hampton street, which was destroyed, the fire started in the second floor, where a woman named Mary Ellen Zuck of the third floor, together with her mother, Dorothy Goldberg of Peabody, were living.

Mr. Zuck, who is forty years old, jumped from the second floor and sustained no injuries. Mr. and Mrs. William Barrett and her sister, Miss Bertha Barrett, and their two children fled from the second floor to the first floor.

Mr. White instructed his representative, Attorney Henry J. Lynch, to go to the police station and see that John J. Manning, who was recently made a sergeant and transferred to Division, Lynch will team up with Special Officer John O. Treaschman. He was appointed to the police force in October, 1919, and served in the navy during the World War.

NOT TO SEE WALSKA, SAYS MCCORMICK
Paris, July 22.—Harold F. McCormick, on his arrival here today from America, told the Associated Press he was in Europe for business and a rest and that he had no intention of seeing the members of the executive committee of the American League of Nations conference. Besides Mrs. Bird, only three other women were elected to the committee.

Her husband is the son of Frank W. Bird, known to his generation as the sage of Walpole, friend of Garrison, Sumner, Andrew and the other great men who stood for freedom and human rights.

Francis W. Bird, who died during the influenza epidemic, held high office under President Taft. Her other son, Charles Sumner Bird, who is now a student at Harvard, who has charge of his father's business in Chicago, takes a lively interest in civic affairs.

Her daughter, the former Edith Bird, married Governor Bass of Chicago, and her son, Richard, is a member of the American Embassy in Italy. So that all the Birds are well allied with politics.

A SERIES taking up the six "peppiest" young women in the ranks of Boston's smart set will begin in these columns on Monday.

Steel Car Repairs Wanted
Rate 63c Per Hour
Permanent Positions for Those Who Are Qualified
Apply to Foreman, N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
Norwood, Mass.
Or to Room 479, South Station, Boston, Mass.

Who gets the 10c you pay for your loaf of bread
Find out in a Full Page TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

FIVE DAYS OF BOSTON AMERICAN'S BOAT TRIPS FOR BOSTON'S Mothers and Children

Nantasket Beach and Return

Two specially chartered luxurious steamboats of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company will make SPECIAL trips each day next week (except Saturday).

MONDAY, JULY 24
TUESDAY, JULY 25
WEDNESDAY, JULY 26
THURSDAY, JULY 27
FRIDAY, JULY 28

3 COUPONS and 10c FOR EACH PERSON

Clip the Coupon on Page 2
Boston American Steamboats
Leave Row's Wharf
8:30 a. m.
9:30 a. m.
Start Saving Coupons TODAY
Return
2:45 p. m.
4:15 p. m.

Present three coupons of any three consecutive days, clipped from the Boston American, TOGETHER WITH 10 CENTS, at any one of the distributing stations, listed below, and you will receive in exchange one round trip ticket to Nantasket Beach.

POSITIVELY NO COUPONS WILL BE EXCHANGED AT THE WHARF OR BY MAIL

Nantasket Boat Trip Coupons Exchanged at Boston American Office, 80 Summer St., Boston

Or at Any of the Following Distributing Stations:

- CITY
B. Reilly, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
- JAMAICA PLAIN
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
- ROSLINDALE
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
- WATERBURY
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.
J. J. Sullivan, 260 Summer St.

YOUR DOG TELLS WHAT YOU ARE

Full page of magnificent doggies and beautiful women is

TOMORROW'S

Sunday Advertiser

BAD SEWERAGE BLAMED FOR MOSQUITOES

Following the call to arms of Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney at Boston, the Hull Civic Association of Alton has enlisted in the state-wide war to exterminate the pestiferous mosquito.

The plan of battle has been outlined by Charles F. Sylvester, member of the Hull board of health, who has issued the following manifesto:

By CHARLES F. SYLVESTER, M.D.

I feel sure that the cesspools in Hull are responsible for the majority of the mosquitoes found in some sections of the town and there should be no let up in the agitation for the installation of a proper sewerage system in the immediate future, not only on account of the mosquito annoyance and health menace, but also that the town may retain its self-respect.

BREED IN FOUNTAINS

Cesspools are usually covered with cement or stone, but the slightest break or crack in the cement will allow the entrance of the minute insects and unlimited breeding often goes on in these pools without a suspicion as to the source. Fountains and ornamental ponds are frequent breeding places. Grasses and weeds offer safe shelter for these insects and should be closely cut, thereby also helping to dry up any collections of water which may be standing in non-porous soil or other containers during rainy periods.

USE OIL FREQUENTLY

The suppression of mosquitoes may therefore be brought about by a careful search for and abolition of the breeding places. Any receptacle that must contain water should be washed every two days or screened tightly to prevent entrance of mosquitoes. All unnecessary receptacles should be broken, burned or removed to a public dump. House gutters should be made to drain thoroughly. Blinds and other articles which often contain stagnant water should be properly drained. Catch basins, cesspools and all stagnant water should be cleaned every two weeks, using one ounce of oil to every ten square feet of water surface. Ponds, mudholes and all wet areas should be filled in, drained or oiled.

KEROSENE BEST

To destroy the mosquito larvae nothing has been more satisfactory than kerosene. It is more effective and less expensive than any other material. It is of low grade or that grade known as fuel oil. The oil may be applied with a cup or watering pot, or by spraying it on the surface of the water by means of a cloth tied to the end of a long stick. As previously stated, it should be applied every two weeks during the mosquito season. Mosquito proof screens should have fourteen to sixteen wires to the inch and should be painted inside the size of the mesh.

BOY SCOUTS CAN HELP

The most efficacious measure for the skin to prevent the pests from biting consists of the following: One ounce of oil of citronella, one ounce of oil of eucalyptus, one ounce of oil of cedar, few drops may be rubbed on the skin or sprinkled on a towel which may be hung at the head of the bed. The Boy Scouts could be of great service to the community in this work of investigating, charting and abolishing the mosquito breeding areas. With the co-operation of every householder, and more active and earlier team work by every member of the Board of Health, while we could not exclude mosquitoes that may just possibly be blown into the town any more than we can hold those that are being blown out, we can reduce the number of insects to a satisfactory minimum in the town itself.

Our slogan should be, "No stagnant water."

MAY GET ARMY

PAY IN DYES

Washington, July 22.—The United States probably will permit Germany to pay for maintenance of the American army on the Rhine by the equivalent of German dye values. It was indicated in Rhine disarmament circles today. Roland W. Hayden, unofficial representative of the government on the Rhine disarmament committee, is now on his way to Washington to take the matter up with officials here.

ELINOR GLYN IN TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

Sever: "A husband should be generous and thoughtful in giving his wife everything he can afford, and he should show great interest in her clothes, especially those which she wears when he is alone with him. He should let her understand that he appreciates all the delicate refinements, and so encourage her to be always delectable to him."

Other tips also were given of other things which every woman should know to her husband.

Full Page in Colors
in TOMORROW'S
Sunday Advertiser

Watching "Hubby"

MRS. CHARLES RAY.
A photograph of the wife of the famous moving picture star, Charles Ray, snapped as she watched her husband working to produce a film version of the popular play, "A Tailor Made Man."

Mrs. Ray is not engaged in any picture work, but she is intensely interested in her husband's productions.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Ready for Your Vacation
Good Steamer Trunks
These trunks are 30-inch size, fibre covered, metal bound, with tray and compartments. A good, durable trunk, for only 5.98

Jordan Marsh Company
Great Basement Store
The Famous Store Within a Store
For the Sale of the Latest Extensive Merchandise

Regular Line of Goods
In addition to the many bargain lots, we carry a full line of Regular Goods in every Basement Department, at prices averaging as low as, or lower than, elsewhere.

We're Clearing Stocks for Inventory and That Means Good Values for Everybody Freshen Up Your Wardrobe Now With Cool Summer Apparel AT GOOD SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS

If you like to save money, don't miss these values. Here they are right now—in mid-summer—just when you need them most. Perhaps you need a new hat—a new dress—a new skirt, or a waist—to fill in for vacation, or to tide you over this Fall. This is your opportunity to get what you need—and save money in the bargain. Many odd lots, not advertised here, also on sale.

Here's a Sure Winner
Misses' Sateen Bathing Suits
2.95

Also included at the above price are some all-wool one-piece suits in the popular light and dark colors. You'll need one on your vacation.

Don't Miss This One
Women's Fine White Kid PUMPS
2.95

Louis and baby Louis heels, turn soles. Sizes somewhat broken. All good grade footwear.

WHAT A JOY TO FIND THE VERY DRESS YOU'RE LOOKING FOR AT SUCH A GENEROUS SAVING

Women's Cool Summer Dresses

Specially Priced
19.00

Many attractive models in crepes, silks, tulle and flowered crepes. Smart straight line and panel effects. Just the thing for warm days. Flowered designs on navy blue background. Also plain navy, black and brown. Sizes 36 to 46.

Voile & Gingham Dresses, cool, comfortable styles, in sizes 36 to 46. Priced at 8.00 to 12.50

Stylish Stout Dresses, voiles and gingham, in styles that are sure to please you, sizes 46 to 52. Priced at 8.00 to 15.00

Women's Silk Umbrellas, 3.95

100 22-inch eight-ribbed silk umbrellas. In navy, purple, red, brown and black. 210 24-inch eight-ribbed silk umbrellas. In purple, navy and green. With 1 1/2-inch border. Both lots are first quality goods. With tips, ends and fancy hardwood handles with bakelite trimmings. Choice of leather strap, amber ring or white ring.

You'll need one of these for your vacation

Cool, Dainty Crepe Kimonos
1.25

These are unusually good value at 1.25. Very pretty, well made, silk ribbon trimmed. Choice of dainty plain colors—light blue, pink, rose, lavender and Copenhagen.

A Heaping Measure of Good Value in These Women's Lustrous Fibre Skirts and the price is only
4.95

Smart styles, as pictured here, with slit pockets, buttoned, trimmed. Choice of black, white and navy. A REAL GOOD value.

They'll go fast at this very small price
Women's White Cotton Hose 15c

Just the thing for house wear. Carter top, double sole, high spliced heels. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10. First quality.

Shop Here Where You Can Be Comfortable

THE COOLEST BASEMENT STORE IN BOSTON

3,000,000 Cubic Feet of Pure Air Are Pumped Into Our Basement Store Every Hour

Scores of Lovely, New
Summer Waists
And the Prices Are Unusually Tempting

MADRAS AND VOILE WAISTS—White, 98c
lace trimmed and frilled models.
BATISTE WAISTS—White and colored, trimmed with real lace, also Voile Waists in fancy models.
LINGERIE WAISTS in dimity, batiste, and voile, plain and fancy styles.
TRICOLETTE OVERBLOUSES—All white and light shades.

July Clean-up of Women's Tailored Suits

All Reduced for Quick Selling
Tweed Suits
Now 9.50
All colors. Some with capes.
Shantung Suits
Now 11.50
of all silk shantung.
Tricotine Suits
Now 6.95
Combination Jersey and Tweeds 9.95

Adding a touch of smartness to your apparel

Women's Leather and Kid BELTS
25c & 50c

White and colored, in several popular styles, for sweaters or dresses. Their good values at these prices.

Every Day Is a Good Day to Shop Here

Ideal for Vacation Wear Shimmery Fibre Hats
A Low Price for a Very Good Hat 2.95

These hats are unusually attractive and summery—and are extra good values. Smart shapes, trimmed with ribbon, silk fringe and wheat bands. Choice of white, black, navy, black and white, navy and white.

BERG GREATEST SONGSTEFK, DAYS COHAN

George Cohan is writing songs again, and Boston is to be the first city to hear the latest Cohan musical compositions, for "Little Nellie Kelly," will open at the Tremont in another week or so.

"How many songs have you written in your time?" I asked Cohan the other day.

"The Lord only knows. I had 600 listed in one catalog and there were more than that. I have forgotten the titles and the subjects of most of them. To tell the truth, they weren't worth remembering. If a man writes half a dozen songs in his life that people do remember, he can call himself a success. I suppose I could name that many."

"Over There," for instance.

"Well, yes. But do you know who I consider the greatest song writer of my time?"

"Who?"

"Irving Berlin. That boy is the greatest melodic genius this country has produced. His method of expression is jazz, but he has ennobled jazz."

"Berlin, in my opinion, has raised the American public's taste. He has taught them to appreciate a real melody. Some of your musical critics think it's a terrible thing that people should be dancing to classic melodies turned into jazz, like 'Spring Song,' 'Chopin marches and waltzes,' 'Song of India' and so forth. But don't you realize that it's a great step forward to have the American people think those things are tunes at all?"

"When I started writing songs popular songs were terrible things. If you made your tunes the slightest bit unusual, if you tried to give them a real melody you were looked upon as a madman. The public didn't want any more."

"Now this fellow Berlin came along and began writing jazz tunes like 'Alexander's Rag Time Band,' which had everything in them that pleased the public, and at the same time were good enough music that professional musicians admired them."

"Now I'm not really a musician myself. I used to play the fiddle when I was a kid, but never with any skill. I don't know anything about harmony and composition. When I write a song I get a cramp in one finger picking it out on the old piano. I'm a results in an amateur composer. I've had a chap to arrange my compositions for years and he is a wonder. All I do to give him the tune. I've handed out sometimes half a dozen of my melodies to the end of one of my melodies is all I can do and change it. Sometimes I call him up on the long distance and whistle over the top of the line. He'll finish it and mail me back the completed work in a day or two. That's the kind of work I do."

"I'm frank to admit that I have followed Berlin's methods and so have every other popular song composer of the last fifteen years. He's improved the whole lot of us."

"Shuffle Along," the Dark Opera, at Selwyn

With the endorsement of the most prominent critics of New York, the musical comedy, "Shuffle Along," at the Metropolitan theatre, whose demands enabled it to remain on Broadway well into the second year, "Shuffle Along," at the Metropolitan, the latest musical comedy, which has been running since the first of the season, has been taken by special train for a limited engagement at the Selwyn Theatre, beginning next Saturday evening, July 29.

Miller and Lyles, who were favorites with vaudeville audiences, wrote the humorous book, and Silvio and Zullo, late members of Jim Europe's famous band of the 19th Infantry, wrote the satirical and humorous score, all four being the featured members of the cast. The plot deals with the city election in Jim Town with Miller and Lyles as the opposites and Zullo and Silvio as the partners in the grocery business. Both spent money successfully in the election and it all comes from the grocery cash register. The cash register is made even funnier when the same device is imagined to be the cause of the election. The plot deals with the mayor's job and equally satisfied to see a candidate elected. Their work in the store and later in the Mayor's office is the funniest piece of acting seen on Broadway in years.

The play is brilliantly staged and continued and the music is thrilling and beautiful, and includes among the many hits, "Wind About Harry," "Love Will Find a Way," "The Days," "Inevitable Time," "I'm Craving For That Kind of Love," "If You Haven't Done Vamped by a Brown Devil, You Haven't Done Vamped at All."

"Silas Warner" Now in the Films

Well, the movies have got back to George Eliot. The latest adaptation of the early Victorian literature, "Silas Marner," which they used to make us read in our English courses at the Boston Latin, has been turned into a film, and the same and the gold and the little golden haired foundling of the novel will walk on the screen of the State Theatre next week.

The kind of English courses were had in school twenty years ago are created a deep hatred for all fiction forced down our throats for mixed improving purposes, but now the "Woe."

ELIZABETH HINES IN "LITTLE NELLIE KELLY" TREMONT JULY 31

MEW MUSICAL COMEDY AT NORUMBEGA

AGNES AGRES AT STATE NEXT WEEK

STRONG FILM OLYMPIA HAS BILLED BY NEW SCREEN ORPHEUM TRIUMPH

Another member of the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week, is the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week.

Two photoplays of extraordinary merit will be offered at Lowell's State Theatre next week. The first, "Borderland," starring Agnes Agres, is an unusual, fanciful and distinctly original picture, based upon a theme of tremendous public interest, and because of its novelty should exert a powerful appeal. Miss Agres portrays three roles in this remarkable production, all of which call for exceptional acting. The second, "Silas Marner," featuring Crawford Kent, is a faithful and inspired adaptation of the original novel by George Eliot, which for more than a century has been considered one of the best of the strong points about the production is the wardrobe, which is of a size and quality rarely seen in any other theatre.

Another member of the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week, is the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week.

Two photoplays of extraordinary merit will be offered at Lowell's State Theatre next week. The first, "Borderland," starring Agnes Agres, is an unusual, fanciful and distinctly original picture, based upon a theme of tremendous public interest, and because of its novelty should exert a powerful appeal. Miss Agres portrays three roles in this remarkable production, all of which call for exceptional acting. The second, "Silas Marner," featuring Crawford Kent, is a faithful and inspired adaptation of the original novel by George Eliot, which for more than a century has been considered one of the best of the strong points about the production is the wardrobe, which is of a size and quality rarely seen in any other theatre.

Another member of the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week, is the famous "Musical Flappers," who will continue his Boston engagement at the Tremont Theatre this week.

Two photoplays of extraordinary merit will be offered at Lowell's State Theatre next week. The first, "Borderland," starring Agnes Agres, is an unusual, fanciful and distinctly original picture, based upon a theme of tremendous public interest, and because of its novelty should exert a powerful appeal. Miss Agres portrays three roles in this remarkable production, all of which call for exceptional acting. The second, "Silas Marner," featuring Crawford Kent, is a faithful and inspired adaptation of the original novel by George Eliot, which for more than a century has been considered one of the best of the strong points about the production is the wardrobe, which is of a size and quality rarely seen in any other theatre.

MISS DAVIES LANE AS OLD BOSTON MAID WAVES

Will Antonish Film Fans by Many Thousands of Persons Skill in Handling Double Carried Safely on Boats to Nantasket Every Day

Commander of a fleet of eight light steamships and responsible for the safe carrying of many thousands of persons to harbor and shore every day of the week, Fred L. Lane, treasurer and general manager of the Nantasket Steamship Company ranks as one of the transportation kings of Boston.

Manager Lane has a task that demands great versatility and never-ending attention to duty.

The vessels of the Nantasket Beach Steamship Company have an enviable record of uninterrupted and safe service, transporting passengers to Nantasket Beach and to Plymouth. It is the task of Mr. Lane to maintain the traditions of the line, to attend to the upkeep and operation of all the vessels, to direct the financial affairs of the company, and to perform the executive duties involved in the handling of a large number of officers and seamen.

With the popularity of Boston and its resorts growing ever hummer, Mr. Lane has more and more to attend to each season. The popularity of the Nantasket Beach steamships is constantly increasing, and more and more tourists and excursionists are eager to visit historic old Plymouth. He furnishes the transportation for these great crowds, and does it in a manner that is making the vessels of his line the most popular pleasure vessels in the country.

Amusements

SELWYN FRED E. WRIGHT-Manager

Gala Opening Sat. Eve. JULY 29

Immediately Preceding its European Tour, THE SENSATIONAL MUSICAL SUCCESS COMING DIRECTLY UNWOUND FROM ITS SECOND YEARS RUN AT THE 63rd STREET MUSIC HALL, NEW YORK WITH THE ORIGINAL STAFF, PRODUCTION AND FAMOUS ORCHESTRATION

HUFFLE ALONG

New York Society Fad THE BIG JOYOUS ALL COLORED MUSICAL MELANGE with and by MILLER SISSLE AND LYLES AND BLAKE

SEATS ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE TUESDAY PRICES EVES 50¢ to $2.50 Plus Tax

COEWS ORPHEUM

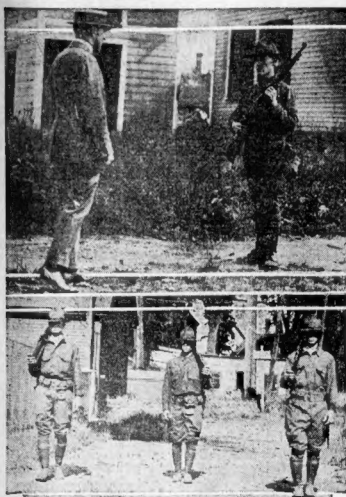

VAUDEVILLE & PHOTOPLAYS

FRANK MAYO

"AFRAID TO FIGHT"

LOEWS STATE

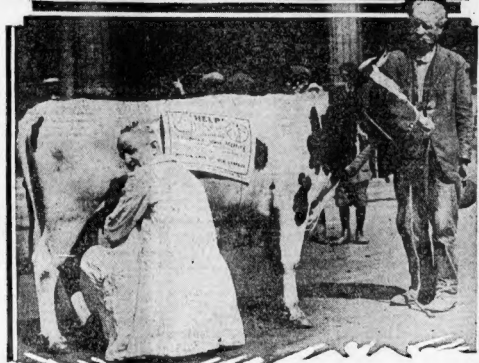

REPUBLICAN HIGH TARIFF BILL EVEN HITS MANICURIST

STATE TROOPS GUARD RAILWAY SHOPS AT CONCORD.
N. H. Every lane leading to Boston & Maine property at Concord was today under the closest guard since the strike. Nobody was permitted to pass unless he possessed credentials. Photo at top shows a trooper halting a civilian who attempted to pass the restricted area. At bottom is shown some of the troopers on guard at a crossing. The strikers bitterly resent the presence of guardmen.

THE REPUBLICANS'
new high tariff bill even jumps the cost of holding hands! The bill makes astounding advances in the tariff on barber and manicure materials. The flipper and thud business man, even as you and I, will have to pay more for his shave, his haircut and his manicure if the tariff bill becomes a law. The tariff jump on manicure clippers, for instance, is a trifling 280 p. c. The manicurists say it will hurt their business. And John Manjo, Boston barber, is sure it will mean a boost in prices.

HAVE YOU
a little Zulu in your home? Mrs. Effie Williams of Marshfield says they're the baby's bib for smartness and are more company than a travelling salesman. They're rubber! You blow 'em up!

FASHION'S LADDER OF SUCCESS STARTS AT the top—thus the hat is the feature of midday's garb! This dainty chapaneau, obviously of Paris design, is fashioned of pale yellow crepe chiffon, with large roses forming the high part of the crown. A brown head-band veil is gracefully draped over one side.
(International News Reel)

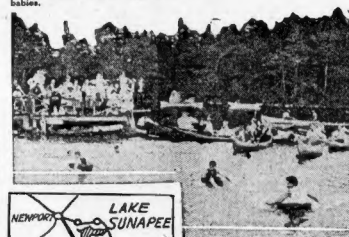

TODAY'S SEA
Beauty Winners are Miss Eva Quint of No. 125 Walnut Ave., Rosbury (at top) and Miss Marion Tinkins of No. 55 Bramley Park, Jamaica Plain.

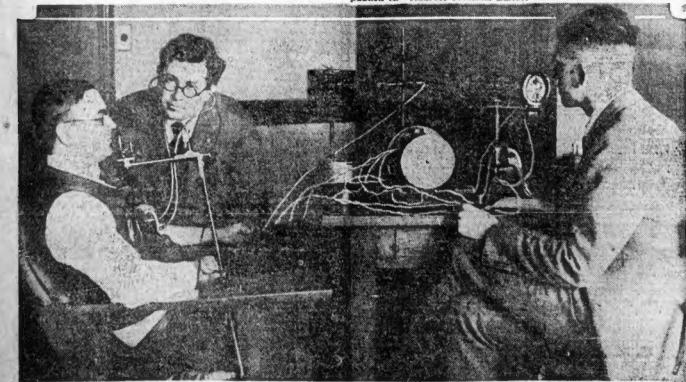

EVERY LITTLE SAND WITCH HAS A FAD ALL HER OWN!
Maybe it's a pup, or a doll, or a balloon, or a skyrocket, or a pretty figure. Don't be stingy. If you don't want to enter the Sea Beauty Test, send in a beach picture of yourself and your fad. We'll publish it. Address Pictorial Editor.

EVERYBODY HAS FAIR
Chance of Winning a Sea Beauty Prize! Every bathing girl in New England is not only entitled but asked to enter the test! It's lots of fun and a little fame and a little gold never hurts any girl.

"SO, BOSS, YOU GOTTA
Do Your Bit for the Russian Kid!" This milkie took place in Post-office square and the milkie is John Wall. The custodian standing up near the cow's bow is Pat Berry. The good fellow is not wearing a makeup. All this was to advertise the festivities held today on the Common in aid of starving Russian babies.

THIS IS A FISH STORY!
We don't know whether or not it is a FISH story, but we'll give it to you young vacationists for what it's worth. Willie Bellingier, above, who says to drive a stake in the ground and saw another stick across it. This draws the worms to the stick, he says. All you hafta do then is—dig.

MAYBE THE JUDGE WAS AFRAID THAT THEY'D TRY IT OUT ON HIM! ANYWAY YOU ARE now gazing at the polygraphometer, or lie detector, invention of Dr. William Moulton Marston (second from left) of Harvard University, which was thrown out of court, so to speak, by a Washington judge when counsel sought to introduce the instrument at the trial of James Alphonse Faye, charged with slaying Dr. Robert W. Brown. Chief Justice Walter L. McCoy said that when instrument had attained the same degree of efficiency as the telegraph it may be possible to make good use of the device in court, but "not now." The instrument, by blood pulsations and emotional reactions, is said to determine if the witness is lying.

TO BOB OR NOT TO BOB!
The latest flapper fad is to disguise their bobbed hair to look like long locks. Anna Milles, a habes, achieved this pretty effect.

TAKING THE AIR IS NOT ALWAYS THE PUP'S PET
Flea, Says Pretty Arline Warner, Who Is Strong for Taking the Air in This Manner! You just press the button and the whirling propellers make you cooler than yesterday morning's ice. Instead of going to Nantasket, she gets her N.I. fan out and—takes the air.

BOAT RACES FOR TENDLER

BEAT LEONARD

BY JACK CONWAY.

Benny Leonard and Low Tandler will furnish the lightweight battle of the century when they clash in their big ten-round bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres next Thursday night. It will be a meeting between two of the greatest little men in the history of the ring. Either Leonard or Tandler would have been able to hold their own in the days of Kid Lavigne, Joe Gans, Battling Sullivan or Ad Wolgast.

Leonard stands forth as one of the few real champions of the present day. He has displayed wonderful boxing and punching ability, while his ring generalship and knowledge of the fine points of the game have been on a par with that of the ones mighty Lavigne.

Tandler is the only challenger whom Leonard has not defeated. Benny has battled most of the star lightweight champions several times.

But he has avoided a meeting with Low up to the signing of the present match. A year ago Leonard made a bluff or agreement to clash with Tandler in Philadelphia, but a week before the bout was to come off he pulled a story about a busted finger. Benny has a trick finger which always seems to give him trouble when Tandler starts talking fight.

How the Philadelphia match fell through.

"I've fought Tandler," said Leonard. "He's referred to me as an outsize, which is a lie. He'll never get a chance at the lightweight title."

"Um, the champion," said Jack Tandler. "The public won't recognize me. They'll think I'm a fake. I'll never get a chance at the lightweight title."

There was then a period of silence. Leonard was expected to draw more than $100,000. Tandler was expected to draw more than $100,000. There are 50,000 seats. With prices ranging from $2 to $15, plus the war tax, it is estimated that there will be quite a flock of dogs in the house if the great event in Boyle's Thirty Acres comes off.

Leonard and Tandler are both busy at their training camps. They have already completed most of their heavy training and will take the next few days to put the finishing touches on their work. They will be in the well-known pink when they enter the ring.

JOE LYNCH GETS A BIG OFFER

New York, July 22.—Matsushita silver Burns of the Oakland A. League, who has been offered $100,000 by the Boston Red Sox, has declined the offer. He is now being offered $100,000 by the Boston Red Sox, who have been offered $100,000 by the Boston Red Sox.

DILBOY POST HAS GOOD GAME TODAY

This afternoon the fans of Fenway will be treated to a stellar attraction when "Big Boy" Dilboy will appear at first base for the Roxbury B. F. C. against the Dilboy Post, V. F. W., at the Richard Trust Playground.

He pushed his way into Mrs. Chambers' bathroom

Find out what happened in TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

Jack Conway to Size Up Leonard and Tandler

Jack Conway, boxing expert of the Boston American, leaves for New York tonight to get the "inside" dope on the Benny Leonard-Low Tandler championship bout, which will be staged at Boyle's Thirty Acres next Thursday night.

Jack will also size up the rival fighters as they shape up in training. He'll tell you what changes Leonard has of retaining his title and just how good Tandler really is. They will be personal, intimate stories such as Conway is able to obtain as a result of his friendly work with Leonard and Tandler and their respective managers, Billy Gibson and Phil Gansman.

Thursday Conway will pick the winner. There will not be any "ifs" in his selection. He'll name one man and tell why he'll finish in front.

No decisions are permitted in New Jersey. Therefore, Jack will give a decision on the bout in Friday's Boston American.

How about the Boston American's alighting bus and get the real dope on the Leonard-Tandler affair from Jack Conway.

MALONE ASKS BOXING BOARD TO LIFT BAN

By KINGSLIDE.

Jack Malone intends to prove he's not a disgrace to the Irish, provided the Boxing Commission will lift his suspension.

"It is an injustice," he said, "that I am being kept out of the ring. I have fought the best of the Irish and I have won. I am a champion and I should be allowed to fight for the title."

"I fight Walker as soon as the Boxing Commission permits me to do so," he said. "I will fight him in the ring and I will win."

The office of the Boxing Commission announced that it had received Malone's letter and that it would give it consideration.

This writer is a great admirer of Malone as a fighter, and does not believe that he is out of his mind when he says that he will fight Walker. We saw Jack's letter and we saw that he was not fit to be a fighter. This belief was supported by a letter from Malone to the commission.

There's a lot of hot blood between Malone and Walker, and if they are ever brought together in the ring it will be a battle.

DIAMOND STARS SEEK DATES

The Millers of Chelsea are without a game for tomorrow afternoon, July 23, and would like to arrange a game with some fast nine away from home. For information call R. J. Brown, manager, Chelsea 2622-2623, and 230 and 230.

LAFAYETTE A. C. OF CAMBRIDGE

The Lafayette A. C. of Cambridge has a game for tomorrow afternoon, July 23, and would like to arrange a game with some fast nine away from home. For information call R. J. Brown, manager, Chelsea 2622-2623, and 230 and 230.

WINFIELD A. C. OF SOUTH BOSTON

The Winfield A. C. of South Boston challenges any fourteen year old team in the city to a game. Write or telephone John J. Gresham room 525, Shawmut Bank building, South Boston.

GRANVILLE A. C. OF DORCHESTER

The Granville A. C. of Dorchester challenges any twelve year old team in the city to a game. Write or telephone John J. Gresham room 525, Shawmut Bank building, South Boston.

CHEVROLET UTILITY COUPE

For Physicians or Business Men

The entire automotive world will be interested in the announcement made today by R. L. Howard, president of the American Steam Truck Company of Chicago, of the arrival of the new American steam vehicle passenger phaeton or touring car.

The car is now on sale in production. Regular deliveries are promised within thirty days, and it is expected that the factory will be working at capacity before September.

For the first time in automotive history a passenger phaeton has been offered at a popular price, $1,450 f. o. b. Chicago. The average price of steamers has ranged between $1,000 and $1,500.

Those who have seen the vehicle in person are enthusiastic in their praise, especially of its "colport" burner and boiler and its ease of motion.

The car comes in response to a demand for a moderately priced steamer simple in mechanism and easy to operate," said Mr. Howard. "The practical reason why so little development has taken place in the use of steam is the pressure of the inability to provide a burner and a boiler that would generate sufficient steam and at the same time be compact and simple."

Handled with safety.

"We have designed a steam apparatus that provides plenty of power quickly. The burner ignites from the dash by the mere turn of a button, and working pressure is attained in about two minutes from the cold."

"One slow turn of the valve starts the boiler, and when the pressure drops downward about fifty pounds, the fire cuts in again until full pressure is reached."

Yale Holds Leader

Stanford, Wash., July 22.—Yale holds the lead in the race for the title of champion of the world in the 100-yard dash. The Yale team, led by the star runner, is expected to win the title.

At $975—Chevrolet "FB" Touring Car and Roadster have no rivals for power, stamina, appearance or comfort. Ride in one today.

1920 CHEVROLET ROADSTER—$975. 1920 CHEVROLET TOURING CAR—$975. 1920 CHEVROLET SEDAN—$975. 1920 CHEVROLET TRUCK—$975.

C. P. ROCKWELL, INC. 640 Commonwealth Avenue Telephone Back Bay 6410

Blue skies, smooth roads, pleasant companionship and one of those nearly new, wholly satisfactory used cars advertised in the "Automobile Exchange" columns, make an ideal vacation combination.

Look into the possibilities to-day and tomorrow. Read the bargains in

THE BOSTON AMERICAN Boston's Want Ad Directory Read for Profit—Use for Results

RACING TONIGHT. The Lincoln B. C. U. of Somerville and the East Boston professionals will race at the Lincoln Park track, Boston, on Monday night, July 23, at 8 o'clock. The "Traynor" fund. The team are evenly matched and the race will be a very close one.

Four Jockeys Punished. Marie Hechler, O. July 21, was disqualified while at the post. Jockeys were fined $25 by St. Francis and Williams also drew a three-day suspension. T. Ward was set down for three days for the same reason.

AMMAN HAS LEFT A MILLION DOLLARS FOR RESPECTABLE BACHELORS AND WIDOWS.

Handbook Club

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

THAT SEEMS A LOT OF MONEY TO LEAVE TO TWO OR THREE MEN.

Washington Post

TENNIS CHAMPIONS IN FINALS FOR LONGWOOD BOWL

WILLIAMS AND TILDEN BATTLE FOR PRIZE

After eleven years of absence from the East, the Longwood Bowl tennis trophy so much sought after by tennis stars of the country, will return to Eastern ownership. William Tilden, of Philadelphia, and A. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia, will battle for this coveted prize in the final round of the Longwood Singles Tournament this afternoon at the Chestnut Hill courts.

It promises to be the best singles match staged this year on any of the Eastern courts. Tilden, world's champion, has yet to have his name engraved on this ancient trophy, and has left nothing undone to accomplish the feat.

Of all the opponents Tilden has encountered since becoming champion, Williams is the most dangerous. This statement was made by Tilden not many months ago, and explains the feeling the champion has for his opponent in today's match.

Twelve years, Williams has had a tendency to become erratic when playing Tilden. He is considered the most daring player of the game. If his shots stay in against Tilden as they did in playing Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia, the Boston entry has a good chance.

Interest in this match in country-wide. As yet the Davis Cup team has not been named, and the showing of the players in this tournament will have much weight in determining who will wear the red, white and blue in the finals at Longwood in September.

There is hardly a chance of the Tilden-Johnson team meeting defeat at the hands of the California pair, Phil Betsen and C. F. Fisher, should Williams force Tilden to go the five sets to win the single, the chances of the Westerners will be bolstered.

Yesterday's semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Williams' semi-final rounds brought out the largest gallery of the week. Those who journeyed to Brookline were well repaid, for they saw many bits of the greatest tennis match of the year.

The defeat of Wallace Johnson by Norris Williams in straight sets of two, five, four, was a surprise. It looked like Johnson's day in the first set after the Quaker City player got a lead of five games to one, but Williams hit a tiger for every point, with the result that he was six up in the second set.

Johnson was a little staidier in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set, but Williams' play was so good that he was six up in the second set.

Indoor Sports

Copyright, 1932, by International Picture Service, Inc. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

INDOOR SPORTS.

PLAYFELLOW IS A "Wind-Sucker" Rules Court

New York, July 22.—The $100,000 paid for the racehorse Playfellow by Harry F. Sinclair to James F. Johnson must be returned.

The appellate division today affirmed this verdict obtained by Mr. Sinclair at a second trial of the case last March.

Full brother of Mr. W. War. Playfellow was bought in June 1921 by the magazine, the price making him the costliest horse in the world.

Playfellow's poor showing in two races and discovery of a physical defect known as "wind-sucking" led Mr. Sinclair's demanding his money back.

LISTENING TO MR. AND MRS. JAMES F. SINCLAIR AT THE COURT HOUSE

THE APPELLATE DIVISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, sitting at the Court House, New York, July 22, 1932.

THE ST. WILLIAM'S CATHOLIC CLUB OF BROOKLINE

The first day's play of the Norfolk Golf Club's open tournament brought out eighty-two players, all of whom were very enthusiastic over the improvements made in the course since their last visit a year ago. Today's entrants should bring the number of competitors up to the two hundred mark, which would be a record breaker.

ON TODAY'S CARD, AS AN ADDITIONAL

feature, an exhibition match will be played with the following preliminary: a four-ball match, each of whom will make a hole in four strokes. The winner of the match will be awarded to that player who breaks the record of the course, which is now 71. William Mitchell of Norfolk and J. S. Burns of Albemarle are the players in the match.

THE NEWSPAPERMAN'S GOLF ASSOCIATION

of Boston has arranged with President Ed. Oliver of the Belmont Golf Club to hold the second tournament of the season on that course on Monday. May may come as early as 9 o'clock, and it is expected that the tournament will be a success.

IRVINE ALL-STARS TO DEFEAT THE STARS

The Irvine All Stars of Torrington, Conn., will play the Torrington Stars of Torrington, Conn., on Monday. The Irvine All Stars are a team of players who have won many titles in the Torrington area.

READING CLIMBS TO THE TOP

During the first half of the Greater Boston Twilight League season, the Reading team has been the best in the league. Thornton, the Reading team, has been the best in the league.

FRUZZETTI DEFEATS CLINTON FOR TITLE

Brooklyn, July 22.—Jimmy Fruzzetti won back the New York City title by defeating Clinton Johnson in the final round of the Greater Boston Twilight League tournament.

BEARDED TEN IN GOTHAM

New York, July 22.—The House of David team, the bearded baseball players from Benton Harbor, Mich., will be the card at the Bronx Game Field tomorrow. Paul Monaghan, the bearded wonder, who many of the major league clubs have sought, will face the local boys. Two years ago he was tried against the Bronx Giants and lost in a 15-inning game.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—The International League will play the first game of the season on Monday. The league will play the first game of the season on Monday.

BOOB McNUTT writes Pearl a letter.

Full pages in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

By TAD

Copyright, 1932, by International Picture Service, Inc. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

INDOOR SPORTS.

JESS REFUSES TO FIGHT IN SEPTEMBER

Los Angeles, July 22.—Jess Willard will not consider September 25 as a date for his proposed championship fight with Jack Dempsey.

CARPENTER WILL MEET "BAT" SIKI

Cardle, July 22.—An American championship fight was made today that George Carpenter, a European champion boxer, will meet "Bat" Siki, a European champion boxer, in a ten-round fight.

WOMAN CHAMPION DEFENDS TITLE

Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago is the champion of the world in the women's 100-yard dash. She will defend her title in the final round of the championship.

MYOPIA POLOISTS DEFEAT MONTREAL

The first polo match of the season the Myopia Polo Club, defeated the Montreal team. The match was played on Monday.

JOHNNY WILSON IS GRANTED HEARING

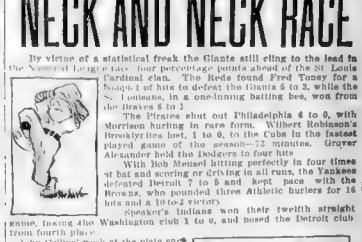

Johnny Wilson has been granted a hearing by the National Commission for the purpose of hearing his case. The hearing will be held on Monday.

KATZENJAMMER KIDS

go hunting sea lions around the North Pole. What happens to Cap is a full page in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

GIANTS CARDINALS IN NECK AND NECK RACE

Copyright, 1932, by International Picture Service, Inc. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

INDOOR SPORTS.

Report Roush Reinstated as Landis

Chenault, O., July 22.—A special dispatch from Oakland, Calif., Ind. Ed. Roush, former major league manager, was reinstated today by Commissioner Landis. Roush, who was suspended for a year, will manage the Cincinnati Reds.

YALE DECLINES TO RELEASE LEADER

Seattle, Wash., July 22.—Yale University has declined to release Ed Leader, a student who was charged with the murder of a woman.

CHAMPIONS RIDE AT REVERE TONIGHT

Tonight will be championship night at the Revere Jockey Club. The champions will ride in the final round of the championship.

TEST RIGHT OF CATCHER TO BLOCK

The National League Club, determined to force a ruling on the right of a catcher to block a runner before the catcher has the ball in his possession, has presented two games in which such blocking occurred.

INDEPENDENTS TO OPEN HOME SEASON

The Independent League will open their season at home at the William J. Ryan stadium, Brooklyn, on Monday. The league will play the first game of the season on Monday.

JOHNNY WILSON IS GRANTED HEARING

Johnny Wilson has been granted a hearing by the National Commission for the purpose of hearing his case. The hearing will be held on Monday.

KATZENJAMMER KIDS

go hunting sea lions around the North Pole. What happens to Cap is a full page in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

BOOB McNUTT writes Pearl a letter.

Full pages in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

BOOB McNUTT writes Pearl a letter.

Full pages in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

BOOB McNUTT writes Pearl a letter.

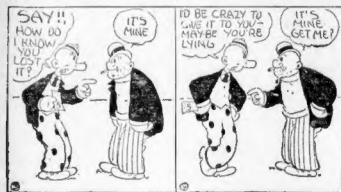

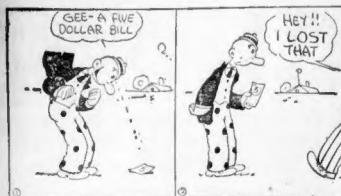

Full pages in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

BOOB McNUTT writes Pearl a letter.

Full pages in colors. TOMORROW'S Sunday Advertiser

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.
Now Showing—"Positive Proof."
Monday—"The Great Naturalist."

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

HELPFUL HENRY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright 1922 International Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.
BY HENSHFIELD

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE—
WHAT SHALL I DO? MY HUSBAND NEVER PRAISES MY COOKING?
—MRS. K.—
MY HEAVENS—ISN'T IT ENOUGH IF HE EATS IT?

BRINGING UP FATHER

REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

DAILY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN AND IN COLORS IN THE BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

By Geo. McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

JERRY ON THE JOB

REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE

ABIE THE AGENT

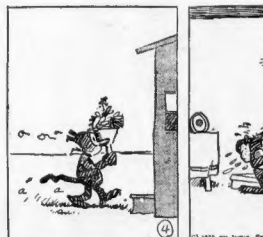

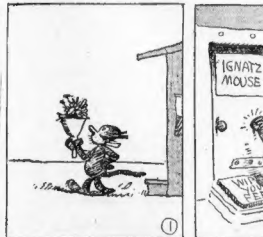

Doing Well, Considering Business Conditions

KRAZY KAT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Very, Very Kareful Kat

US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Skinny Is Unable to Help

AUTOMOBILE EXCHANGE

$165
Overland Touring Car
Nice Family Car
3117 E. 84th St. at 3rd
ONLY $165 DOWN
Is fully equipped—all in A-1 condition. 235 H.P. engine and comfortable riding. Has plenty of power; must see it to appreciate what a real genuine bargain it is.
Call at once at Garage, 163 Columbia Ave., Houston.

USED SIGNALS
Capacity 1½ Ton and 5 Ton
Owned by New York Bank. Caa be had at a bargain for immediate cash. Address W. L. WHITE,
Attorney, 20 West 45th St.,
New York City, N. Y.

[illegible][illegible]

FOR HIGH 1922 Hudson sedan for all reasons. Free-able rates. Somerville 1813-5.

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES

1919 HENDERSON motor cycle and side cart, recently equipped, perfect running order. For Winthrop St., Newmarket. Tel.
 1000. 1922-W.

NEW bicycles $25 up; 20s., $10 up. BO
 CYCLE CO. 18 Warren St.; when open

YACHT, BOATS AND ENGINES

GASOLINE

WHOLESALE, RETAIL.

PENNSYLVANIA Marine Motor oil Monday on
 1000, filling station on Bowdoin. Fish Pl
 BOSTON HARBOR Oil Co. Engines 1140.

School?

With Your Choice

... Fashion Drawing School
... Garment Designing School
... Girls' Boarding or Finishing School
... Hair Dressing School
... Interior Decorating School

- .. Language School
- .. Law School
- .. Millinery School
- .. Motion Picture School
- .. Music Conservatory
- .. Nautical School
- .. School of Salesmanship
- .. School of Stammerers
- .. Technical School
- .. Telegraph School
- .. Trade School
- .. Vocal Training
- .. Wireless School

State.

